// OFFICIAL LIVE LEADERBOARD OVERVIEW

Empowering Performance, Driving Community

The PODIUM Leaderboard is the digital pulse of the PODIUM Series. It is a live, data-driven platform designed to celebrate member performance, foster friendly competition, and elevate the community vibe across your studio.

By giving members a transparent, real-time look at their standings, the leaderboard transforms raw effort into visual achievement, keeping engagement high long after the event timer stops!

PODIUM Team Registration Form

Once a member purchases their PODIUM event ticket through Glofox, an automated registration email is immediately dispatched to lock in their spot on the leaderboard. Because automated system emails can sometimes get caught by strict inbox filters, please remind members to check their Promotions, Updates, or Junk folders if the confirmation doesn't arrive in their primary inbox within a few minutes.

The email will contain a link to a registration form. Here, competitors will select their division and nominate their teammate. They'll also identify whether they/their teammate are a BFT Member, and if so, at which studio.

Upon completion, both team members will receive a confirmation email that they have officially registered for the event.

What does this mean for your studio?

When a competitor who has purchased a ticket through your Glofox site submits a registration form, you will receive a notification via your studio email address outlining the details of their registration, including competitor information, their chosen division, and their BFT member status.

Any competitors who select that they are not a BFT member will then drop in as a lead in your Glofox platform.

What should you do with this information?

The information received via registration will be used to:

1. Determine how many waves you will need to schedule for each division
2. Book team members into their designated wave time on event day

Use this spreadsheet template to help you manage your registrations, and generate a potential event day schedule/wave times:

/// TROUBLESHOOTING & TECHNICAL SUPPORT

Need Help with the Leaderboard?

If you encounter an issue that cannot be resolved within your studio dashboard, our BFT HQ support team is ready to step in.

When to Raise a Support Ticket

Please submit a support ticket for any of the following scenarios:

- Score Error: A team's score was saved in the dashboard but was entered incorrectly and requires adjustment.
- Studio Dashboard Access Issues: Your studio PIN is not working and you require it to be reset.
- Division Change: A team registered under the wrong division. NOTE: Any division changes requested after 11:59PM AEST on July 30 will not be actioned.

How to Contact Support

To ensure the fastest possible resolution, email the BFT Support Desk directly:

Email to support@bftsupport.zendesk.com

What to Include in Your Ticket

To help our technical team resolve your issue on the first try, please include as much information as possible in your ticket.

Our support desk prioritises event-day tickets to ensure the leaderboard stays accurate when it matters most.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

Q: What if a competitor makes a mistake on their registration form?

A: Within the studio dashboard, you can edit a team members name and category but not division - log a ticket if a team needs to change divisions.

NOTE: Any division changes requested after 11:59PM AEST on July 30 will not be actioned.

Q: What if one of the participants isn't a member at my studio?

A: Teams will always be categorised under the purchasing studio. So whether the team consists of one, two, or zero members from your studio, if they made the purchase through your Glofox site, they will display on your studio leaderboard.

NOTE: If the second participant is not a member of any BFT studio (or does not exist within the CRM of Glofox), they will be logged as a lead in your Glofox Dashboard once registration is complete.

Q: What if a purchaser doesn't receive the email to register?

A: They should first check spam/promotions folders. The next step would be for the studio to submit a ticket to HQ Support on behalf of the competitor.

Q: What happens for members who've purchased a ticket but don't complete the registration form by the 11:59PM AEST July 30 cut off?

A: The link will no longer work and the registration will not be added to the leaderboard. This is a hard deadline so studios can finalise wave times.

Q: When will studios receive access to the backend of the leaderboard?

A: Access details will go out on Thursday July 16. You will receive an email to your studio account with your unique PIN number and instruction on how to log in.
